DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. The drawings were received on 1/27/2006. These drawings are acceptable.

In the applicant's remark with respect to the telephone interview on 1/23/2006, applicant stated that, during the telephone interview, "the Examiner indicated the figures must be labeled as 'Prior Art'."

It should be noted that, as stated in the interview summary, the Examiner has suggested that the applicant may have the following three options for responding the objected figures and that the figures be labeled as "Prior Art" is one of the options:

- a) change the legends of the cited drawings to be "Prior Art" instead of "Related Art" since the specification recites that the cited drawings describe a basic conventional structure (see page 6 of the specification),
- b) delete the two cited drawings, or
- c) file a petition for entering the legend "Related Art" on the cited drawings.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 1-12 and 16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention.

In claim 1, applicant has added limitations that “the void portions extending along a length direction and the length direction extending substantially from the first end to the second end.” However, there is insufficient support from the specification for the added limitations. In addition, in claim 2, it recites that the void portions are formed along a whole length of the honeycomb structure at predetermined positions at a regular interval, which contradicts the added limitations recited in claim 1.

If any of these limitations are explicitly supported by the original disclosure, applicants should indicate the page and line numbers where support is found. If support is considered to be implicit, applicants should clearly explain how these limitations are derived from the original disclosure. Any unsupported limitations are required to be deleted from the claims.

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claim 2 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 2, it recites that the void portions are formed along a whole length of the honeycomb structure at predetermined positions at a regular interval, which contradicts the limitations recited in claim 1 that the void portions extending along a length direction and the length direction extending substantially from the first end to the second end. Please clarify.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 9 and 11-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Yorita et al. (US 5,855,781).

Yorita discloses a ceramic filter honeycomb structure comprising a grove-shaped recess which extending substantially from the first end to the second end of the honeycomb structure (abstract and Fig.7).

Yorita also discloses the honeycomb structure having a sectional shapes such as quadrangular shape (see figures) and is made of material such as cordierite (col. 5, lines 10-25).

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments filed on 1/27/2006 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

6. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).
